

Jeff Stryker¹
Guilford, CT
203-453-0435
jeffstryker@gmail.com

Vegansexuals. New York Times Magazine December 9, 2007.

Using shame as punishment: Have sex, get infamous. San Francisco Chronicle March 13, 2005.

How brainwashing came to life and thrived. San Francisco Chronicle August 1, 2004.

Rubbernecking evil: serial killers as celebrities. San Francisco Chronicle Feb. 1, 2004.

Go play with your Arnold. New York Times Sept. 21, 2003.

Universal care is nowhere to be found. San Francisco Chronicle April 27, 2003.

Anger management is all the rage. San Jose Mercury News April 13, 2003.

“Emergency” birth control: Access issues. New York Times March 11, 2003.

Undermining the law: The assault on Roe v. Wade. San Francisco Chronicle January 19, 2003.

Oniomaniacs come out of the closet. New York Times July 21, 2002:D-2.

More drama added to politics of transplants [“John Q.”]. New York Times February 19, 2002.

Writer chuckles over report of his demise. New York Times January 8, 2002.

If a star is slandered, pick up the homophone. San Francisco Chronicle January 6, 2002.

HIV patients get fresh hopes for donor organs. New York Times December 11, 2001.

What’s funny about fat? Not much, activists say, as film hits sore spot. San Jose Mercury News November 18, 2001.

¹ For complete CV, see: www.jeffstryker.com/pdfs/stryk2008resume.pdf

For partygoers who can't say no, experts try to reduce the risks. New York Times September 25, 2001.

Who's asking? Everything researchers ever wanted to know about sex. New York Times February 11, 2001.

Under the influence of gifts, coupons and cash. New York Times July 23, 2000.

Take it to the bank (sperm banks). New York Times Magazine June 25, 2000.

They couldn't resist: Oh, one last thing (poison-pen wills). New York Times May 21, 2000.

Those who stand and coif might also protect. New York Times March 26, 2000.

The right dose of scare tactics. New York Times October 31, 1999.

This article is brought to you by San Francisco Examiner September 23, 1999.

Gifts of the heart may mean a kidney. New York Times December 13, 1998.

Honk if offended. New York Times Magazine Sept. 27, 1998.

The race is on (profile of author Richard North Patterson). George August, 1998.

Hallelujah! Science looks at prayer for friend and fungus. New York Times April 5, 1998.

Going in style: The loved one gets a new age sendoff. New York Times February 22, 1998.

Sorry to wake you honey. They're coming to take you away. New York Times Feb. 1, 1998.

That chill in the air isn't from an open window. New York Times November 23, 1997.

The morning after and the night before. (With Thomas J. Coates) San Francisco Examiner October 15, 1997.

Twin pique: Yin, yang and you. New York Times September 7, 1997.

The age of innocence isn't what it once was. New York Times July 13, 1997.

An awful milestone for the Golden Gate Bridge. New York Times July 9, 1995.

Onan the barbarian. San Francisco Examiner January 1, 1995.

The dog walks. New York Times February 3, 1993.

